

How does our measure of uplift change using more basic methods?

By comparing average daily visits before and after the tv ad leads to overestimating uplift

